INTRODUCTION

Tuesday Dialogue is a series of roundtable discussions on Pakistan's relations with important capitals. The objective is to get candid inputs from officials and experts who are, and have been dealing with major countries that have caught the attention of Pakistan's foreign policy thrust. These inputs are articulated in the form of recommendations that are shared with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and other key stakeholders.

The format of the roundtable is based on Chatham House rules and all inputs are non-attributable.
