Senior Adviser (R & D) - Ministry of Transport of Afghanistan

COVID - 19 crisis is a litmus test of humanity and it's preparedness for an uneventful happening. The lack of trust, haphazard response, miscommunication among communities, cities and nations is one of the major reason that this virus spread out abruptly and caused a brutal pandemic. It's still not too late, if we accept our individual responsibility and use the resources wisely, we can avoid losing more lives and bearing more damage.
